Rumors Persist Of Peace Moves In China Strife

U. S. Marines To Land In Shanghai Thursday To Guard Americans

RED TROOPS ARE STILL ADVANCING (BULLETIN)

NANKING, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The Chinese government reported tonight that communist forces have completely surrounded the ancient and beautiful city of Beijing, spurring the defenders to preparations for a last ditch defense.

All communications—land, sea and air—were cut off in the new communist advance.

NANKING, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Persistent rumors of moves for a negotiated peace and replacement of the National government with a Coalition regime swept China's jittery capital of Nanking today.

The reports, which spread in the face of repeated widespread Communist advances, were met with grim silence from government sources.

Meanwhile, it was announced that a force of 695 U. S. Marines is due tomorrow to guard American lives and property in China's queen port which is menaced by Red vanguards driving toward the lower Yangtze.

Growing Gravity
Dispatch of the leathernecks from Tsingtao underscored the growing gravity of China's civil war as Red armies threatened to thrust a wedge between Nanking and Shanghai and to overrun North China.

In the north, ancient Peiping, one of the world's most magnificent cities, faced the danger of encirclement by Communist columns closing in from all directions. Red spearheads stabbed into its western suburbs where Communist shells already were exploding.

On the central front, Nanking's northern defenses and eastern flank were incessantly lashed by Communist vanguards which have approached within 40 miles on the north and reached the wide Yangtze river 100 miles east of the capital.

Northwest of Nanking an estimated 350,000 government troops

Pa Newc Observes

Vandals are cutting wires, stealing vari-colored bulbs, and damaging Christmas trees installed in public places, according to reports reaching police headquarters.

Mrs. Rebecca Strong of the Dean building was pleasantly surprised Tuesday when an amaryllis plant she has had for several years burst out with two beautiful salmon colored blossoms, the first time since she has had it. This plant blooms very infrequently, and when it does it is said to be a sign of good luck.

Street lights on the North Hill, north of Wallace avenue, went out at 5 a. m. today because of an open circuit, which may have resulted from one of many causes. Pennsylvania Power company officials promised the street lights would be repaired by dusk this evening.

Workmen, supervised by Owen Fox, city forester, were erecting one of the large community trees on the lawn of the Epworth Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. The tree is to be illuminated. In other years, the tree was placed in the small park at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street.

According to a report heard by Pa Newc, something like 5200 pounds of turkey are required to provide for the many turkey dinners being served to organizations at the Cathedral dining rooms during the holiday season.

Mutual Defense Pact Of Americas Set In Motion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The mutual defense pact of the Americas was set in motion today as the council of the organization of American states acted on Costa Rica's charge of "invasion" by Nicaragua.

A five-hour extraordinary night session empowered Enrique Corominas, Argentine chairman of the council, to appoint a commission of inquiry.

Corominas today sifted the names of delegates he wishes to man the commission which is expected to reach the northwest border of Costa Rica in less than 48 hours.

Corominas declared that the council, which voted 12 to 0 to call a foreign ministers' meeting, has the right to invoke all the clauses of the treaty in the event of a conflict between two or more American states.

The council by last night's decision also became the provisional organ of consultation in Costa Rica's case against Nicaragua, pending a meeting of the foreign ministers.

Only the nations that had ratified and deposited the Rio treaty were privileged to vote. Fifteen nations have ratified.

President Truman expressed a wish for worldwide peace in his message of Christmas greeting to the armed forces today.

Defense Secretary Forrestal and the secretaries and chiefs of staff of the other services also extended their Christmas greetings to men in the field.

The president said: "For your efforts in the task of bringing peace to the world, I express my own appreciation and that of the nation which you represent and of which you are the valiant defenders. It is a source of deep satisfaction to me personally to know that in many parts of the world liberty-loving Americans are serving their country as ambassadors of goodwill and as exemplars of the freedom for which it stands."

"If we can help those less fortunate than ourselves to a better life, and to an understanding of the world and its ideals have been dearly won and must be carefully guarded, such a task not only becomes our duty but our privilege. May your Christmas be a happy one and the spirit of this season extend throughout the new year."

Start Work On
New Lights For Downtown Street

E. F. Scanlon, contractor for the Pennsylvania Power company, has commenced excavating in East Washington street between Croton avenue and Pearson streets, where the company proposes to install 21 one thousand candle-power overhead ornamental street lights to replace the present 600 candle-power lights.

Contractor Scanlon will install the lights. However, the new lights will not be installed until after January 1.

The proposed new ornamental lights will conform to the system in the downtown business section.

When the new lights are turned on, twice the present illumination will be provided the city at an additional cost of $29, a month, according to power company officials.

Officials Baffled

Fell So Far To Solve Killings
Of Beautiful Bath
Furnsworth

GUAM, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Guam authorities ran up against a stone wall today in their efforts to find the rape-killers of beautiful Ruth Farnsworth.

The Army, Navy and Guam police were examining each of the thousands of men on the island for scratches in the hope that the young San Francisco woman had left some marks on her assailants during the struggle.

Only tangible clues authorities had were a piece of rope and a pair of army field boots. Both were found in the jungle only a short distance from the place Miss Farnsworth was found in a coma.

Miss Farnsworth, a 27-year-old civilian employee of the Navy, died yesterday more than 48 hours after she was found savagely beaten, assaulted and left for dead. She never regained consciousness.

Probe Source Of Waste Found In Shenango River

Taste Of City Water Is Caused By Phenol Coming Down River

AID OF GOVERNOR WILL BE SOUGHT

Roars of complaint have been heard from users of city water in the past few days.

The taste has been heavy with chlorine and irate householders have been yelling for somebody to "do something."

The fault is definitely not that of the New Castle Water Company. It is the fault of somebody, or some industry in the Sharon district dumping waste containing phenol into the Shenango river, it is stated.

Try To Eradicate It

J. Lepere Mathews, manager of the New Castle Water Company and French Johnson, chemist of the company have done everything they can to purify the water and still keep the chlorine taste out, but they have about reached the limit of their knowledge and facilities.

Carbon has been used to kill the chlorine taste but the limit of using carbon has been reached. Today Mr. Johnson is checking the Shenango river between the water plant and Sharon in an effort to find the end of the phenol waste.

The evidence of the phenol waste is clear in the Shenango river today. Great patches of dark water are seen and these patches are loaded with the phenol waste. The taste of the city water will return to normal only when the last of the phenol waste has passed the water plant.

Not First Time

This is not the first or second time this condition has obtained. In the past five years it has happened a number of times and usually the excuse in the Sharon district is that a car of waste was "accidentally" dumped into the river.

This time the matter is to be presented to Governor James H. Duff in an effort to have the practice stopped. The first time it happened it may have been an accident, the second time may have been a coincidence, but the third time and the times since seems to be a bad habit.

The picture accompanying this article shows the dark patcher in the Shenango river today. That neighbor is the reason why your drinking water has tasted like

Ceremony

ROYAL FAMILY MEMBERS PRESENT

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The one-month and two-day-old son of Princess Elizabeth was christened H.R.H. Prince Charles Philip Arthur George of Edinburgh today in a picturesque "gold and lace" ceremony at Buckingham palace.

First there were birth registration formalities during which the baby received the regular government handout of cod-liver oil, concentrated orange juice and a green ration book.

Gave Child His Name

Then the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England, gave the child his name above a beautifully scrolled gold "lily" font beneath the great crystal chandelier of a state drawing room.

"Bonnie Prince Charlie," as he already is being called, was christened by the Most Rev. Dr. Geoffrey Fisher according to the full Anglican ritual in a strictly private family ceremony.

Except for picture-taking afterward, the christening lasted only 15 minutes.

In appearance, wore the historic state christening robe of Honiton lace over a satin petticoat used for almost all royal infants since the days of Queen Victoria's children.

House Spy Prober Intimates Man Accused Of Giving Secrets Near Arrest

CLOSED DOOR SESSION BEING HELD TODAY

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A House spy prober intimated today that the man accused of giving Russia "information of great military significance" has been picked up by the FBI or will be arrested shortly.

This hint was given by Rep. Mundt (R S.D.), acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee as his group and the Federal Bureau of Investigation joined in a double-barreled probe into the leaking of American military secrets to the Soviet.

At the same time, the committee scheduled a closed door session at which an unidentified witness may be called to give further testimony in the sensational Soviet espionage case.

King Still In Operation

Mundt declined to disclose the name of the suspected "leak" but expressed belief he was an army civilian technician who might still be employed by the government.

The congressman said that the information turned over to Communist agents concerned U. S. secret weapons and was secured from the Army's Aberdeen Proving Grounds, near Baltimore.

While the information leaked out about 10 years ago, Mundt represented the committee as unanimous in feeling that "there is still an espionage ring operating in Washington."

The new investigation developed as the committee prepared to make public tomorrow more of the stolen state department documents found on microfilm in a pumpkin on the farm of Whittaker Chambers, ex-Communist agent.

Contract Let For Repairs To Bridge

Beaver River Bridge At West Pittsburg To Be Repaired By Conn Welding Co.

Conn Welding and Machine company of New Castle has been awarded the contract for the repair of the Beaver River Bridge at West Pittsburg. The price is $95,725, according to the state highway department.

Work upon the repairs will start about May 1, Conn Branscombe of the company said today. The delay is due to the shortage of materials. Sixty-five working days are allowed for the completion of the repairs which apparently means the bridge will not be in use until sometime in August.

The bridge was posted for not more than five tons some months ago and since then traffic in and out of West Pittsburg has been handicapped. The Wetlich bridge over the railroad was then posted for seven and one-half tons and this meant no heavy loads could go in and out of West Pittsburg.

The Wetlich bridge is being repaired and should be open shortly. This will alleviate the situation in part but not until the Beaver River bridge is completely will traffic be back to normal.

Not counted as a test were 253 other persons who arrived at the test station with cars which had mechanical defects, which had to be remedied prior to an examination being given.

Declares Soviet Got Information On Norden Sight

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—A House spy prober said today that Communist agents received information on the top secret Norden bomb sight just before the outbreak of World War II.

The committee announced yesterday that "very important military information" was transmitted to "Communist agents" from the army's Aberdeen, Md., Proving Grounds.

The member said that the committee learned that no printed documents or plans of the bomb sight went to the Russian agents but that "oral information" on the vital instrument was transmitted to the spies.

Special Federal Grand Jury Nears End Of Spy Probe

Concrete Action Of Jury Is Expected Before Midnight Tonight

JURY TERM LEGALLY ENDS AT MIDNIGHT

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—

The special grand jury spurred today toward the climax of its 18-month probe of Communist activity, with concrete action expected by midnight.

Whether the action will take the form of indictments, no-bills, or a presentation of findings is not known. Reports current in New York's Federal Building indicate at least one indictment and hasty activity in the jury rooms showed the long-awaited action on the Hiss-Chambers conflict may be at hand.

Whittaker Chambers, the self-confessed ex-spy courier, who accused former state department official Alger Hiss of giving him secrets.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(INS)—A. George Silverman, former Army Air Force economic adviser linked by Elizabeth Bentley to a Communist ring in Washington, was summoned today before the New York Federal grand jury.

The jury today began its last day of life after an 18-month term highlighted by the indictment of twelve top American Communists on charges they conspired to overthrow the United States government by force.

ret documents for relay to Soviet agents, was much in evidence as the jury's term drew toward a close.

Tells Of Threat Fears

While his wife, Esther, testified before the jury, Chambers told newsmen of his fear that Communists might attack her and their two children. He related that at least once a definite threat against his family was made by a woman Communist.

The jury legally ends its term at midnight. But some hints have been given that a loophole might be found to extend its life one more day. In any case, a new special grand jury will be sworn in tomorrow. It is expected to follow up the insights into Communist activity given by former "spy queen" Elizabeth Bentley.

May Not Complete Work

But, should the present jury fail to complete its work on the Hiss-Chambers problem, it may merely present its findings and leave it to the new jury to finish its work. Frenzied activity in Federal —most of them locked within two Red traps—struggled to avert destruction by Communist armies which have sent flanking units across the Hwai river. The latter is the last Nationalist defense line above the Yangtze.

The "protective force" of American Marines sailed today aboard the transport Bayfield from the U. S. Navy's north China base of Tsingtao.

Announcement on this effect was made in Shanghai by U. S. Consul General John M. Cabot. He said the leatherneck contingent consists of two infantry companies plus a support and service group.

Cabot declared the sole purpose of the expedition is to protect American citizens and property in Shanghai in the event the war emergency moves up to or into China's biggest city.

The military threat to Shanghai, as well as to Nanking, was posed by a mounting southward Red offensive down the coastal province of Kiangsu toward the huge delta of the Yangtze.

Funeral Service Is Something More...

Funeral service that is worthy of the name must be something more than a funeral home and some equipment, no matter how complete it may be.

With the Hammond organ, and many lesser items, the Boyd Home for Funerals is better equipped than most. But even that is not enough.

It is when these things are combined with a spirit of helpfulness and an experienced handling of the many details that a funeral director really serves. That is what we mean when we speak of personal service—and why it is so necessary.

"Why The Chimes Rang" Presented At Guest Night In First Church

An effective and moving dramatization of "Why The Chimes Rang" was given Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church by a group of Westminster students interested in drama, the majority speech and drama majors.

The program was given for the McIlvaine guild and the Westminster auxiliary of the church as a joint guest night event.

Mrs. J. J. Alexander, program chairman, introduced Miss Marjorie Lostetter, director of the play.

Effectiveness of the play was heightened by the fact that it was presented in what Miss Lostetter termed "pentagon styling," i.e. with the audience seated in a square formation on the same level as the cast.

To open the program, two numbers, "The Birthday of a King" and "O Holy Night" were sung by Darl Wiley, a music student at Westminster, with Ray Ocock as accompanist at the piano.

Carols were led by Miss Lena Mae McConnell with Miss Olive Webb at the piano. Scripture was read by Miss Martha Grace Elder and prayer offered by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser.

Tea was served afterward in the church parlors from a table centered with a music box in the form of a miniature church. Red candles in a branched silver candelabra added to the decorations which were carried out further in the refreshments.

Mrs. R. F. Galbreath and Mrs. A. A. Webb poured.

On the hostess committee for the Westminster auxiliary were Miss Olive Webb and Miss Geraldine Fry and on the McIlvaine guild committee, Mrs. J. J. Alexander, Mrs. David Connerly, Mrs. William Y. Gibson, Mrs. Gordon Jenkins, and Mrs. A. D. Patterson.

LADIES OF LIONS MUSICALES-TEA

Ladies of the Lions were guests for their Christmas social and tea marked by a gift exchange in the home of Mrs. U. A. Leivo, Glenmore boulevard, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken, program chairman, presented a ladies' quartet who sang Christmas carols. In the quartet were Mrs. Harry Barnes, Miss Ruth Weir, Mrs. Paul Melvin, and Mrs. Willard Perdue. Accompanying at the piano was Miss Isabel Johnson.

Miss Johnson and Miss Weir then played two piano duet numbers.

During business, with Mrs. Harry Helmeck presiding, Mrs. Roscoe Clement was appointed corresponding secretary.

A gift exchange was carried out as a feature of the evening.

Tea was served by the social committee with Mrs. Earl Wimer pouring. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Raymond Cunningham, Mrs. F. C. Clobas, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Charles Bashaw, Mrs. R. A. Bailey, Mrs. Clarence Hough and Mrs. A. H. Borland.

Next meeting will be January 11 in the home of Mrs. Harding Thayer, Hazelcroft avenue.

Section F Dinner

By candlelight amid a setting of a tree and Christmas decorations, members of Section F of the Third U. P. church were served a turkey dinner on a recent evening in the home of Mrs. Olive Zeigler, Warren avenue. An informal social time ensued.

In serving, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Gertrude Knell and Mrs. Mary Sines.

Next meeting will be January 13 in the home of Mrs. Carrie Mortimer, East Washington street.

L. D. K. SOCIETY HAS HOLIDAY ASSEMBLY

Using "Christmas" as her theme, Mrs. George Glass led devotions Monday evening when the L.D.K. Missionary society of Third U. P. church met in the home of Miss Helen Book, East Washington street. Rooms of the home were decorated in Yule appointments.

Mrs. Glass was also responsible for the program on the theme "W. G. M. S. Outreach," which included an imaginary aeroplane tour of foreign missionary stations supported by the U. P. church. Mrs. Howard Burdette led the tour through "India," while Mrs. Fred Thompson's topic was "The Sudan." Mrs. Thomas Coultas took the group through "Ethiopia," followed by a tour of "Egypt" with Mrs. Horace Allen speaking. Miss Book conducted the prayer cycle.

After Mrs. Thompson directed games, gifts were exchanged around a lighted Christmas tree. The hostess with co-hostesses, Mrs. William Kyle and Mrs. Lloyd Gill as aides, served lunch. Mrs. Lester Maxwell, Adams street, will entertain Monday evening, January 24, at her home.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

A Soviet confession of vastly diminished prestige in Germany was seen today in seemingly authentic reports that the Russians soon will begin withdrawing their occupational forces as a move in setting up an eastern state with which a peace treaty will be signed.

The confession is seen implicit in these factors:
1—Creation of a separate state means that Russia has abandoned all hope of controlling all of Germany.

2—Unpopularity of Soviet occupational troops with the general public has reached a point which makes it safer for the Red army to hand its duties over to a Communist-infiltrated German police force.

The unpopularity of the Russians in Germany is a traditional one. It has been heightened by Soviet political strategy whose errors were demonstrated clearly a week ago last Sunday when residents of the western sectors of Berlin voted for a new municipal assembly and gave communism the worst setback it has suffered since the end of the war.

Factor Of Importance
One factor of great importance that the Soviet high command has overlooked is the calibre of its occupational troops both in Germany and in Austria.

It has been a military axiom from the time of Caesar that the occupational army which functions best is drawn from top-level echelons.

The highly-cultured populations of Germany and Austria pay the proper degree of attention to the appearance and behavior of the forces assigned to watch over them and exact the tributes of a lost war.

They know what good soldiers look like and act like. The armies of imperial Germany and of the Austro-Hungarian empire never were excelled in discipline and correctness.

Much of this "spit and polish" prevailed in the black-shirted Elite Guards of Adolf Hitler's days. This did not apply to his strong-arm Brownshirt rabble, and it is noteworthy that when this illegal organization had done its work of violence, Hitler "purged" its officer corps and placed firm restrictions on the rank and file.

In contrast, Soviet occupation

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

If there is a Zoo in your neighborhood you ought to go there one of these days.

It is really surprising how much you can learn about human beings in a Zoo.

You can say all you want about us humans being so far above animals because we are supposed to have a soul and they aren't.

But, no matter how spiritually superior we feel, we cannot deny the fact that, physically at least, we are part of the animal world. (I was going to say animal kingdom, but with kings being what they are nowadays I prefer to call it the animal world.)

I learned a couple of things about human beings at the New York Zoo the other day.

There were animals—tigers, elephants, all locked up in cages, caught by men much weaker than they, but caught just the same.

Because, you see, those human beings who caught them had learned that brain is more potent than brawn, that thinking and planning and a little bit of brute strength any day in the week.

I was thinking how many of us spend our lives in cages and self-made cages at that.

I have seen fine and strong men locked in cages of intemperance, immorality and greed.

I have seen women behind bars of vanity and jealousy, caged in by their refusal to grow old gracefully and by their insane desire to be socially prominent or physically glamorous.

Then I went to the monkey house.

There they were, those funny apes, climbing all over one another, shrieking their heads off, yelling, scratching, biting, crowding—all over a banana with which I was teasing them and which was all they finally got for all their trouble.

Somewhat it reminded me so much of a New York subway rush with all the little human monkeys racing and scampering toward Success, which, for most of them would consist of no more than monkey's share of a banana in a cageful of monkeys.

One of the saddest of all the sights was the laughing hyena.

Have you ever heard those horrible noises a laughing hyena makes?

Have you ever seen that awful laugh that isn't a laugh at all?

For no particular reason, as I was standing there, I thought of a picture of Stalin I had seen in a magazine.

He, too, was laughing and in his eyes there was something just like what I saw in the eyes of that hyena.

And do you know, I felt sorry both for the hyena and for Stalin.

Just as I feel sorry for any animal or human who is a prisoner—no matter who built the cage.

Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them. Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well; the rain also filleth the pools. They go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.—Ps. 84 5-7.

From Me To You

By MESEBALL

The idea is not to be a kill-joy . . . just the opposite . . . long life with much joy and happiness . . . that's why we would like to retell the story told by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

New Christmas toys can be dangerous to young children with prying fingers. The Board warns Christmas shoppers. Be sure they are safe. The fire authorities advise taking special care in choosing electric toys. Toys of inferior construction can cause severe burns and start serious fires in Christmas trees and flammable decorations.

Parents should inspect electric toys their children receive at Christmas and supervise their play with any electric set. The children may get a severe shock from touching a radiator or other "ground" while handling electric toys. Here are the general rules for safe toys as presented by the Board of Fire Underwriters:

1. Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories' Inc. markers on electric toys.
2. Don't buy toys using alcohol, kerosene, or gasoline. They are hazardous in juvenile hands.
3. Don't place electric trains around the base of the Christmas tree.
4. Parents should plug and unplug electric toys themselves, rather than let small children do it. Play with electric toys should be supervised.

If everyone cooperates . . . the fire loss here in this community can be kept down. It has been done here and elsewhere. . . New York City firemen appealed to the residents to be extra careful after the paralyzing blizzard of December 26 last year because city streets were so clogged fire engines couldn't get through. . . The end of that week showed the number of fires had dropped to half that for the same week, preceding year . . . after the emergency was over, people relaxed, fire losses went up.

Realities Of China Collapse

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—While we may be treated later on to furious political denunciations, there is little disposition at this stage of the China crisis to try to make political capital out of that vast tragedy. Conscientious Republicans on the congressional watchdog committee are well aware of the grim realities behind the collapse of the Nationalist armies.

Their calculations show that this country during the past two years has sent upwards of two billion dollars to China in aid of one kind or another. A large proportion of this aid has eventually fallen to the Communists.

Whole armies have surrendered and have bought immunity from the conquering Communist forces by turning over American military supplies. No one can say with any accuracy the exact percentage of the $2,000,000,000 that ultimately ended in Communist hands, but it is certainly high.

Nothing Can Be Done
Republicans who have studied the situation are for the most part agreed that nothing can be done to save Chiang Kai-Shek at this late date. An exception is Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota who spent many years in China as a medical missionary. Judd believes that if Chiang would consolidate his forces in South China, that area could be preserved with massive aid from the United States, sent immediately by every possible means.

Knowledgeable Republicans such as Sen. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, who have given careful

The sentencing of a spy to 20 years by the Russians again illustrates the advantages of American citizenship. No native spy would be given such shoddy treatment here.

One woman who admitted dealings with the Soviet was rather cruelly handled. . . She was put on a television program without makeup.

But we can appreciate the department of justice fears of premature publicity in spy cases. Some of the evidence is only 10 years old.

And they wouldn't have to have those 10-year-old secrets fall into the hands of an enemy. . . as they did when they were still new and secret.

One thing about those microfilms. . . In contrast to some Hollywood releases they do contain a plot.

JOBS UPON A TIME

William Holden, motion picture actor, was born in O'Fallon, Ill., in 1918, but moved to Pasadena and attended junior college there. His moving picture career began in 1939, when he was chosen from more than 3,000 candidates to play the title role in Clifford Odets' Golden Boy. In 1942 Bill enlisted in the Army and rose to rank of first lieutenant. Bill is the husband of Brenda Marshall, film star. They have three children. His real name is William Beedle.

If Kay Armen, featured radio singer, had not once been compared to Kate Smith she might still have been pounding a typewriter for a living. Kay's excess pounds almost defeated her ambitions, but hard luck and diet helped her shed the unwanted pounds. Kay was christened Armen Manogian, her father being an Armenian-born champion wrestler. Her radio career began with a station in Nashville, Tenn. Nashville was ringer with Army camps and Kay spent every free moment singing for G.I.s. On New Year's Day, 1944, Kay first appeared on network radio. She went sometime to play in a Broadway musical.

'Sedition On Trial

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—Ten amendments to the Constitution make up the Bill of Rights—10 paragraphs which amount to less than one-fifth of the whole document. The question is now raised in legislative circles: "Should this one-fifth part be given preferred status over the whole Constitution?"

Article 3 of the Constitution rules out the idea of "guilt by association". But under the rules of the War Crimes trials the United States has crossed into new judicial territory and is hanging men for undocumented "crimes against humanity". The question next raised in these same circles is, "Should we not modernize the Constitution so as to protect the very rights it gives our citizens?"

I list these queries not because I agree with their implications, but because the queries seem pertinent and timely.

Indictments Obtained

Last summer the Department of Justice obtained indictments against 12 Communist leaders who will be tried this winter under the Smith Act, one of the many anti-sedition laws. This month the same Department rushed new evidence to the Hiss-Chambers grand jury, again on matters which relate to sedition.

It is not too much to say, I think, that both the Justice Department and the whole theory of American justice are going on trial in these cases. The American public may not phrase its doubts in terms of the above questions, but the same implications are involved. The public is certainly beginning to ask anew if—and if not, why not—the country can't be protected against the crime of sedition.

Sedition in the genealogy of criminology is only a distant cousin to treason. The Constitution defines treason and purposely make it a tough case to prove. But it is Congress down through these years which writes the sedition laws with the intent of making them useful in protecting the Republic against overthrow.

Congress, however, has seldom if ever passed a sedition law without consent and advice from the Justice Department. This is proper procedure. Justice under the Attorney General has the enforcement of the laws. It is the acknowledged authority on the need, usefulness and constitutionality of such legislation.

Twice during the life of the 80th Congress we saw illustrations of deferment to the Justice Department.

Once, during early 1947, Congress was working out the Rees Bill, a measure for detecting and punishing disloyalty in government jobs. But the Justice Department (with good reason, I think) opposed the Rees Bill and hurried through a substitute measure, the President's Loyalty Program.

While the 80th Congress was breathing its last in the late summer, the program came under attack from both sides of the Capitol. Rep. Thomas Committee on Un-American Activities was parading Alger Hiss, Whittaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley as examples of the Federal government's inability to keep its house clean. Senator Ferguson's subcommittee on investigations offered William Remington, a suspect employee of the Commerce Department, as its prize exhibition. Much politics and publicity—madness was involved, and Mr. Truman labelled the whole business a "red herring"—a false scent to distract attention from the real election issues.

Offered New Law

Again, last winter and spring, Congress offered the Justice Department a new anti-sedition law. The Mundt-Nixon Bill, naming Communists as subversive types and requiring them to register, was in turn declined by the Attorney General as tending to being useless and probably harmful in shielding the Republic.

This recital shows us where the Justice Department stands in relation to sedition prosecutions. Attorney General Clark has taken the position that there are plenty of existing laws to catch, indict, convict and punish seditionists.

We may all hope that this is true. Otherwise and eventually, the questions which opened this piece will be raised in earnest. I found the questions seriously discussed at a meeting of the Maryland Bar Association which I presume is a good enough example of legalistic thinking.

Meanwhile the Justice Department and Attorney General Clark will have a wonderful chance this winter to prove that the existing laws will be in fact, sufficient to deal with sedition in these days of the Communist menace. Anything short of this proof may lead us to tinkering with the Constitution, a calamity much to be feared. But as Justice Holmes once wrote: "A page of history is worth a volume of logic." And the American public these days is reading history whenever it opens a newspaper.

State Police Say:

So you had the right of way. Your sure and doctor will be happy to know that, and it will give you something with which to open a conversation. Many motorists will ignore discretion and common sense to obtain what they assume to be their right of way regardless of consequences. Many of them never live to learn the outcome of the encounter. Being right won't ease their agony of broken bones and there's little comfort in knowing it was the other fellow's fault.

They Say

WASHINGTON—Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine minister, . . . "A foreign minister cannot make all eventualities and circumstances that the future alone can reveal. Therefore he cannot make broad, all-inclusive replies to global questions."

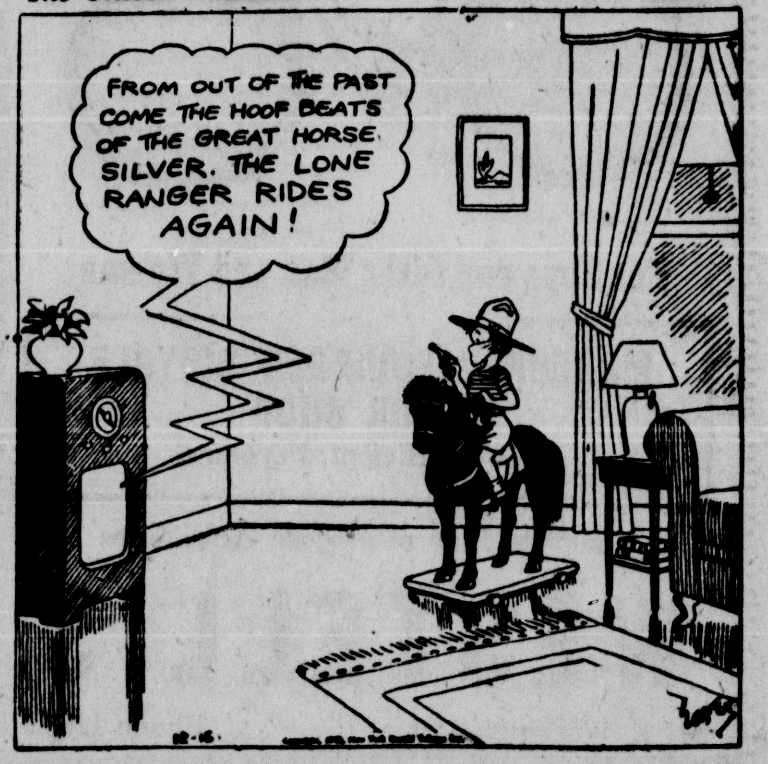

NEW YORK—Rep. Nixon (R) Calif., member of House Un-American Activities committee. . . "The indictment of Whittaker Chambers would constitute a whitewash because it would be impossible to bring out the truth regarding other people."

SHANGHAI—Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation administrator. . . "The principle purpose of the ECA is to help the people of BERLIN. . . Dr. Ernest Reuter, western-backed lord mayor of Berlin. . . None of us will ever acknowledge the division of Berlin. . . we are the only legitimate authority which exists in Berlin."

"CEREALS"
Cereals, or grains have made up a large part of the food of the human race for many centuries.
Wheat, barley, rice, oats, rye, corn and other grains and seeds have been used down through the ages.

The people of different countries seem to prefer different cereals. One country uses wheat, another prefers rice, another likes corn better.
There are a great many different ways of making use of cereals. There are so many ways of making bread out of wheat that it would be a big job to learn all of them.
Rice is the main foodstuff for millions of people. Perhaps it is not used as much in this locality as it could be.

Our people seem to prefer white rice like they do white flour and white bread.
The milling of rice and wheat removes some of their valuable properties.
Brown rice provides more vitamins and minerals.

ambassador to the Soviet Union and then to France, he has written bitterly partisan attacks on the Roosevelt-Truman conduct of foreign policy for Life magazine. It is expected here he will use the same forum when he returns from China.

Grievous Errors Made
Bullitt flew to China with Nevada's incredible senator, George Malone. Malone gave an interview in China the other day in which he said that American ERP materials were being fabricated in ERP countries in Europe and then sent to the Soviet Union which promptly sent them to China. There are few, of course, except bitter-and isolationists, who would take that seriously.

Certainly, grievous errors have been made. Decisions taken at Yalta, resulting partly from over-estimation of Japanese strength, did incalculable harm. But these errors of judgment were based on the best information available to responsible military planners and not, as those who seem to delight in distortion and vilification would have us believe, as part of some sinister plot.

The bi-partisan foreign policy is just as important for Asia as it is for Europe. It is not yet clear what can be salvaged in China. But a constructive American approach to southeast Asia becomes more and more urgent with the virtual certainty of a Communist-dominated China. Such a policy will not be possible under the suspicion, the attack and the counter-attack of the past three years.

Not Particularly Resented
By one of those quirks of human nature, this was not particularly resented by the German people despite their own scant rations and bodily discomforts.

There is still enough ingrained militarism in the Germans for them to acknowledge that a commanding general, and particularly a victorious one, has the inalienable right to put on a good show if he chooses to do so.

Gen. Lucius Clay, the U. S. military governor, and Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, who represents Great Britain, always have laid stress on discipline, good nature and smart personal appearance.

This has paid dividends. The German people in the west accord an enormous measure of respect to American and British troops, and that respect has been well earned. It is one of the things that has solidified Allied rule in the west while the Russians in the east have had to trim their sails to the wind and recognize themselves as unwelcome guests.

The mountain plover is a ring plover very common throughout the Rocky Mountain region and neighboring plains, where its sandy gray plumage makes it almost invisible when it lights. It rarely ascends above the level (8000 to 9000 feet) of the interior parks.

Franz Schubert, Austrian composer, began to take violin lessons when he was 8 years old, and after a few lessons on the piano from his older brother, he studied by himself.

New Hopes For Possible Cure For Cancer Held

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Isolation of a mysterious cancer-causing agent by a top-ranking Japanese scientist aroused new hopes today that a possible cure for one of the world's deadliest diseases might be found.

Experiments described in Chicago by Dr. Ryojun Kinoshita brought speculation that some types of cancer may be caused by a virus, just as smallpox and other diseases.

Dr. Kinoshita told a news conference at the Illinois division of the American Cancer Society yesterday that the agent can be neutralized and cancers caused by it decreased or made to disappear. He has labeled it the "O Factor" in honor of his hometown of Osaka.

Rita Hayworth And Prince Make New York Visit

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Screen beauty Rita Hayworth and rich Indian Prince Aly Khan may or may not be planning to go to England together.

They ain't talkin'.

The actress and the prince, both registered at New York's Plaza hotel, are ducking newsmen and reporters and inquiries at the hotel bring only the response that they cannot be bothered.

They apparently take the position their joint stay in New York is the same kind of "coincidence" that has had them in Havana, on the Riviera, in Hollywood and many other places at the same times in recent months.

DRAKE TABERNAACLE TO HAVE PROGRAMS

Several holiday programs have been planned for Drake Tabernacle Sunday, December 19, opening with a worship service in the morning at 11 o'clock, when "The Christ Child" will be the theme. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock Bible school pupils will offer a program. Election of officers will take place during Bible school at 10 o'clock in the morning.

"The Holy Night," a pageant, will be given Sunday evening, December 26, at 7:30 o'clock by young people of the congregation.

All Citizens Of Perryopolis To Help Spend Fund

Small Community Willing $1,400.
800 By Woman Born
in Village

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa., Dec. 15.—(INS)—All citizens of Perryopolis over 21 years of age were being enlisted today to help spend $1,400,000 willed the small cross-roads community by a Pennsylvania woman who was born in the Pennsylvania village.

Executors of the estate of Mrs. Mary Fuller Frasier informed officials of the Perryopolis Community Planning Association Monday that was the amount coming to the community under the will of the late native daughter.

Half the net amount will go for improvements, and half will be held in reserve for upkeep.

President J. Boyd Knox of the Community Planning Association said all residents of the community over 21 will be asked to participate in the planning of permanent improvements which will be submitted to a mass meeting of citizens for approval and for priority selection.

The plans then will be sent to Philadelphia for approval. Meanwhile, the citizens group will have to petition the courts to determine the Perryopolis boundary limits, as the community is not incorporated.

Confesses That He Killed Wife

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Four motherless children were wondering just what they would do today, and a 36-year-old Pittsburgh man was in the county jail charged with murder.

The man, Stephen Kuras, confessed to a Pittsburgh alderman Tuesday night that he had fatally stabbed his common-law wife, Mrs. Florence Donley, 30, mother of the four children.

Her death followed a quarrel between the two after she had filed charges of disorderly conduct and assault and battery against Kuras. Twelve-year-old Marlene Donley said her mother returned to their apartment Tuesday after 6:30 p. m. and told Kuras she had filed the charges against him.

When Mrs. Donley told Kuras she did not intend to drop the charges, the girl said Kuras got a long butcher knife from the kitchen and stabbed her mother in the chest.

Y.W.C.A. Christmas Party Is Enjoyed

'The Other Wiseman' Play Presented; Over Hundred Dolls To Be Given Away

A merry time was had by all of the 125 guests who attended Tuesday evening's Christmas party and program at the YWCA.

Starting the program in the proper spirit, "The Other Wiseman", by Henry Van Dyke, a delightful holiday story was given by Corinne Garside. The group sang Christmas carols, with Mrs. Clark E. McClelland as leader, and accompanied by Mrs. James W. Anderson.

Mrs. James Hill presided at the giving of the dolls. The 100 quota of dolls has been reached, and since the dolls are not to be distributed until next Friday, there is still time to make one if any person so desires. Material can be purchased at the YW.

A warm welcome was extended to the group by president Mrs. C. M. England. She introduced the new adult group director, Miss Betty Jane Metzner. Also an honored guest was made welcome, Miss Marguerite D. White, former general secretary of the YW, now of Mineral Springs, W. Va. She is visiting in the city for a few days.

Mrs. Roy A. Long invited all to partake of the "wassail", which was made by Mrs. J. W. Valentine. Wassail means "be thou in health", and is an old English custom. The group lounged around the burning fireplace and the good fellowship prevailed.

An added feature was taking motion pictures of the event by Thomas Outhwaite, maintenance staff man of the YW.

Various clubs of the YW assisted in the arrangements of the party, which certainly was a great success. The planning committee consisted of Jean Derr, Eleanor Dowe, Mary Galbreath, Margaret Harris, Della Kiser, Mary Jane Lewis, Mrs. Andrew Shevitz, Miss Muri Smith, Mrs. Joseph Stocky, Doris Ward and Dolores Williams.

To earn the price of shoes, an American carpenter works only 2 1/2 hours, as against 110 hours for a Russian carpenter, 25 hours for a French equivalent and 17 hours for a Swede.

Gaston Post Has Meeting Tuesday

Plans Made For Christmas Party In Legion Home Next Monday

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, had its semi-monthly meeting in the Legion Home, Tuesday evening, when plans were made for the annual Christmas party for the kiddies of the members, related to the youth of the post. The party will be held next Monday evening, in conjunction with the Auxiliary. The resignation of Tom Edmunds as adjutant was accepted with regret, and announcement of his successor will be announced by Commander Merle H. Hildebrand in the near future.

E. Gene Schweinsberg and Charles E. Allen were named co-chairmen of a committee to arrange for farewell ceremonies for the men departing in the draft. The membership campaign of the post is now on full swing, and many new members are being taken in. Chairman Earl C. Moffatt announced.

An inia is a cetacean (a marine mammal such as a whale), related to the sasu of the Ganges, which inhabits the Amazon and its tributaries. Only one species is known. It reaches a length of eight feet, may be all pink or a varying mixture of black and pink. The Indians regard it with both fear and superstition, and little is known of its habits.

Bessemer Club Has Recital Program

At a guest night program of Bessemer Woman's club in Bessemer Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, those present heard an organ recital by Samuel S. Badal of Youngstown college and readings by Mrs. W. J. Harper McKnight of New Wilmington.

As guests assembled Mr. Badal played a recital and to open the program five variations of Christmas music and concluded with two more groups of selections.

Two readings were given by Mrs. McKnight. One was "The Littlest Angel" and the other "The Anniversary" by Margaret Sangster. Her presentation drew appreciative applause.

Miss Mary Nord, program chairman, introduced Mrs. McKnight and Mr. Badal.

During a short business meeting in the church basement preceding the program, gifts were turned in to the war veterans committee to be distributed to patients in DeShon hospital. Mrs. Richard Hilliard is in charge of the ingathering.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, Miss Florence Ehle chairman.

Next meeting will be January 18 in Bessemer Presbyterian church.

Weasels are not too important in the annual fur harvest because the pelts are so small as hardly to be worth a trapper's efforts.

Hermon and Princeton Presbyterian churches was named president, while Rev. Lawrence Avers, pastor of the Oak Grove U.P. church was named secretary-treasurer.

Four Documents In Spy Probe To Be Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Lovett said today that four of the documents in the House spy investigation have been suppressed because publication of them would jeopardize the lives of persons who supplied the information to the government.

Lovett was questioned at a news conference about the documents in the possession of the House Un-American Activities committee. He explained that 82 documents had been submitted to the State department and that four of them had not been cleared for publication.

Report Israel To Get Full Recognition By United States

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The United States will extend full recognition to the new State of Israel early in the new year.

This was learned on high government authority today as the Export-Import bank expedited its study of Israel's request for a 100 million dollar American loan. President Truman, it was learned, will grant full recognition to the new state either the latter part of January or early in February. Recognition of Israel is expected steps in the international field taken by the president following his inauguration Jan. 20. Mr. Truman may take the action that will welcome the State of Israel into the community of nations as an equal on Jan. 26.

No Meeting Of Lions Tuesday

Regular Meeting Postponed Because Of Blind Party This Evening

There will be no noon luncheon meeting of the New Castle Lions club Tuesday, because of the dinner for the blind folks of the community, which is an event of this evening at 6:30 o'clock in Epworth Methodist church.

The blind folks and their guides will be brought to the party by club members, and following a turkey dinner there will be a program of entertainment, and a gift for each of the guests. This is an annual event and one which is looked forward to with great expectancy by the sightless ones.

Request Airline Pay $2,012,800

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 15.—(INS)—The flaming crash of a United Airlines Mainliner on a Pennsylvania mountainside June 17 flared back into the news on a $2,012,800 damage suit filed by the executrix of Earl Carroll, famed producer, who was one of 43 persons to die in the wreck.

The suit, filed in Federal court at Scranton by Jessie I. Schuyler, of Los Angeles, Calif., sole executrix of the Carroll estate, charged the airline was negligent in operation and maintenance of the huge DC-6 which crashed near Mount Carmel.

The airliner, en route from the West Coast to New York, struck a high-tension transformer near a mine and virtually disintegrated.

Union School Plans Christmas Programs

Union township high school building is buzzing with preparations for the annual Christmas programs which will be presented on Tuesday evening, December 21, at 8:15 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Grades three through six will present the operetta "When Toys Come To Life" under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Carr, Mrs. Florence Mitchell, Miss Angeline Venditto and Miss Olive Ziegler. The high school band and mixed chorus which is under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Gibson, will also be heard during the evening. The program is put on for the school P. T. A.

Seek To Rescue Flyers Stranded In Plane Crashes

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Dec. 15.—(INS)—A helicopter was readied today for a new attempt to rescue nine U. S. Air Force flyers stranded on the icy interior of Greenland.

The helicopter was requested by the Greenland base command after other means of rescue were ruled out by bad weather.

Meanwhile, supplies have been dropped to the stranded flyers. Seven were members of a C-47 transport crew which crash landed while on an operational flight. Two others were stranded with them when their B-27 rescue plane crashed in an attempt to land at the scene. None of the men is injured.

United States citizens are the best shod people on earth, but in 1947 they spent only 1.79 per cent of their consumer dollar on shoes, slightly lower than the 1937-1947 average of 1.87 per cent.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15.—Betty Grable, who possesses more curves than a roller coaster, launched a one-woman campaign today for a modern-dress movie.

She is getting bored by the fact that for the past four years she has been imprisoned in a corset in every one of her pictures.

The beautiful blonde from Beverly Hills wailed:

"I've been whaleboned to death. The last time I wore modern duds was in 'Diamond Horse Shoe', back in 1944.

"I've been caved-in by corsets in 'The Dolly Sisters', 'The Shocking Miss Pilgrim', 'Mother Wore Tights', 'The Lady In Ermine' and 'When My Baby Smiles At Me'."

And currently she is playing her charms—in corsets—for "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend."

Sprains Back

A couple of days ago Betty sprained her back. It was the third time in three months that her back got out of whack.

"And no wonder," she said. "I've been immobilized so much I fall apart every time I try to go around in normal dress."

Of course, it might not be real gentlemanly to pass along an admission of Miss G's. She confided that corsets do give a gal a comely figure, and that nipped-in look emphasizes the above-and-below-the-waistline bulges.

But the curvaceous cutie who was the No. 1 pinup queen of American G.I.s during the last war declared:

"Corsets are a snare and a delusion. A gal may look enticing wearing one of the things, but touch her and she feels more like a fence than a female!"

Isn't Any Fun

She went on picking a (whale) bone about her ordeal:

"The less said the better about what a corset feels like to the wearer."

"Torture racks of olden times couldn't have been worse than having your ribs and flesh squeezed together by steel and strings. A gal feels more like a warrior than a woman, the way they buttress you in."

Don't Fence Me In

Betty doesn't know what her next screen assignment will be at 20th Century-Fox. She doesn't really care, as long as they stop fencing her in.

"The studio bosses have been good to me," she said. "They made me what I am today. I'd be a nitwit if I didn't know that."

"I hope Mr. Zanuck is listening: I have no illusions that I'd be a terrific clothes horse. It takes taller girls to do right by a glamour gown, and I think I'm just the every-day type of woman. And I don't go for this 'imprisoned in steel' routine, new look or old."

"Corsets may have been okay in the gay nineties—but to me they're just a pain in the ribs!"

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CHRISTMAS DAY CONFUSION
For the younger members of the family, Christmas celebrations, though exciting, may be very confusing and lead to fatigue and irritability. Wise parents try to arrange things so that none of the fun is taken out of the day while some of the confusion is eliminated.

Each family must work out things to satisfy itself, but here are a few suggestions as to ways in which Christmas day can be less hectic:
In the morning, a somewhat earlier breakfast—and a simple one—will contribute to the feeling of well-being that is so important. Then, especially as far as the youngest members of the family are concerned, the gifts should be staggered in one way or another. Some may be gathered from beneath the tree early in the day. Or stockings with their smaller gifts may be the starting point. Whatever the system, not too many things should be presented to the youngsters at one time. Some parents—with children's consent—put away a few gifts to be played with for the first time some days after Christmas.

A rest period during the day is important, too. One should not insist on sleep, but being apart from the family with a few toys for quiet play is desirable.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

"Could you give me some suggestions for a Christmas party? Do you know of any appropriate menu for the occasion?"

Answer: A party at Christmas may be the merriest of affairs. That holiday of holidays lends such great opportunities for colorful decorations.

Grace your walls with huge wreaths and holly sprays tied with red ribbon. Have your lighting from candles and lamps diffusing a rosy glow.

On a table, place a glass or silvered Christmas tree and suspend from it a small gift or favor for each guest. You may prefer to hang in the doorway between your living and dining rooms a large stocking made of paper mache, which may be broken during the evening to disperse these gifts which the guests will make a mad dash to catch as they fall.

In your Yuletide menu, you may include: Turkey sandwiches with fruit salad, or turkey salad with cream cheese and jelly sandwiches, coffee or hot chocolate, fruit cake, or cup cakes, some having white and others red icing.

A white tablecloth with a centerpiece of poinsettias flanked by green "good luck" bayberry candles will complete your Christmas atmosphere.

Question: When one has a formal wedding invitation from a close friend, is it permissible, if you cannot attend—to send a note of regret and wish the friend happiness or must it be strictly formal?

Answer: Your reply must be formal. However, you may write a note too wishing her happiness, or pay her a call after she returns from her honeymoon.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Korean Communists Cause Terror Reign

SEOUL, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Korean Communists have invoked a reign of terror in south Korea's agricultural districts in a desperate effort to halt the government's newly adopted rice collection program. Cho Bong Am, agricultural and forestry minister, told International News Service today that new waves of Communist violence threaten to reduce rice collections drastically.

He said Communist activity during a recent three week period resulted in the death of seven rice collection officials and farmers who had participated in the program.

Also, nearly a dozen farmers were reported injured severely after they were beaten and robbed during the same period. Most of the farmers were attacked immediately after delivering their rice to government collection stations.

Report On Seal Sale Progress

Tuberculosis Society Campaign, Now In Fourth Week, Has Almost 50 Per Cent Of Goal

John C. Syling, chairman of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society's Christmas seal sale today announced that almost 50 per cent of the $15,000 goal has been reached after three weeks of the campaign.

Figures which include complete returns through Monday, exclusive of the sale in booths at the various stores, show that $7,198.50 has been sent into the office in 5,709 letters.

Mr. Syling said that while seal sale returns thus far have been encouraging and are running close to the figures for a similar period in other years, he urged all of those who have not done so to acknowledge their seals, so that the quota needed to carry on the 1949 program of the local county society might be reached.

According to Mr. Syling, reminder cards will be sent this week to those parties who have not yet acknowledged their receipt of the seals. He said, "We realize that our friends are very busy with last-minute Christmas preparations and it is quite possible to overlook the seal letter, but the work of the Tuberculosis Society depends on the answers received and we are taking this step to help our patrons and ourselves."

Mr. Syling also stated that some reminder cards might be sent to those who have already returned their letters. For the most part these cards were sent in error and does not indicate that a contribution has not been credited to the proper source. Anyone who has already contributed to the seal campaign and receives a reminder card is urged to disregard the notice.

Local Couple Feted In St. Cloud, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wimer, of 1025 E. Washington street, New Castle, were honored recently by their neighbors in St. Cloud, Florida, where they make their winter home.

A party in honor of the Wimer's fifty-third wedding anniversary was given on the evening of December 4, in the music room of Harry Fox and Wilbur Sheets. The evening was spent in an informal social time, many of the guests meeting for the first time since leaving for their northern home last spring.

The Messrs. Fox and Sheets, versatile artists, offered a program of instrumental music and made a recording for the Wimers.

A host of local friends added to the occasion by sending a shower of cards and congratulatory letters.

Mr. and Mrs. Wimer are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Rote, of the Harlanburg road, and two sons, Lysie Wimer of Washington, D. C., and Arthur Wimer, who teaches journalism at the University of Iowa.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A friend of Anatole France brought his son to the novelist's studio one day, and said, "My boy aspires to be an author, monsieur. Could you spare him a bit of advice?" "An author, eh?" said France, addressing the young man. "Are you resigned to starving in garrets, seeing lesser works than your own carried to success by unfair critics, and in general living like a leper until you're forty?" "What will happen after I'm forty?" said the young man hopefully.

"When you're forty," said France, "you'll be used to it."

A blonde babe in the Latin Quarter ensemble reported for the midnight show with a beautiful shiner on her left eye. Another artist in the troupe studied the damage with some satisfaction and drawled, "Looks like you got the worst of that fight, dearie." "Do you really think so?" answered the blonde. "Just wait till you get a look at your husband."

Students To Try Plan Preventing Early Teeth Decay

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Pittsburgh school children are going to participate in a nationwide plan to demonstrate the effectiveness of sodium fluoride as a tooth decay preventative.

A group of picked 12-year-old students will be treated in the school system's 14 dental clinics after Feb. 1. All children, however, will be urged to see their family dentist for treatment. Seven years of research show that decay can be decreased by nearly 40 per cent.

The treatment includes four applications of a colorless and odorless solution of sodium fluoride to the surfaces of the teeth. There is an interval of three or four days between each application. The treatment is effective for about three years. But it is not a cure-all for dental diseases.

A recent discovery during an archaeological expedition in the Republic of Panama was a necklace found in a burial urn which contained 740 human teeth, all from the front of the mouth.

The word "consomme" means consumed. This clear soup is so-called because meat is consumed, or cooked away, in extracting the juices. Produce it "kon-suh-MAY."

Red Cross To Offer First Aid Course

In accordance with recent accident prevention meetings in New Castle, the Lawrence County chapter of the American Red Cross today announced that it will offer a first aid and accident prevention course at the chapter house starting January 15.

This is the first such course to be offered to industrial groups and individuals in almost a year.

The course, 18 one-hour weekly sessions, will be offered free with a trained Red Cross instructor as the teacher. According to Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive secretary, the course will put emphasis on the theory that accidents don't just happen but are caused.

Various types of accidents and methods of preventing them will be studied as well as approved methods of rendering first aid at the scene of an accident that may lessen the degree of injury or save a life. Those interested in taking the course should contact the chapter office before January 7.

Expect Witnesses To Describe Scene Of Soldier's Murder

U. S. Military Court in Germany
Hearing Evidence in Slaying
Of Sgt. Ybarbo

MARBURG, Germany, Dec. 15. (INS)—Three G.I.'s and their Fraulein girl-friends are expected to describe to a U. S. military court today the bedroom murder of Sgt. John Ybarbo.

The trial of Sgt. Ybarbo's attractive widow for the murder, drew international attention when the three-man tribunal ruled that "the constitution did not follow" New England-born Mrs. William "Billie" Ybarbo, when she left the U. S.

Defense attorneys for the good-looking Malden, Mass., Brunette who challenged the court's authority, were promptly overruled. Mrs. Ybarbo thus became the first American dependent to be tried for murder under occupation law. She faces a possible death-sentence.

The 23-year old mother of a six year old boy has pleaded innocent to charges of pumping four bullets into her husband on the night of Sept. 21.

Today's witnesses are expected to include three soldiers and two German girls who attended a party, after a round of night clubs, at the Ybarbo's home in Fritztal on the night of the crime. Authorities say that the witnesses have already told of hearing a husband-and-wife quarrel in their hosts' bedroom.

The witnesses also claimed to have heard four shots, and to have seen Mrs. Ybarbo standing over her fatally wounded husband with a smoking pistol.

A.F.L. Will Seek Repeal Of Tax Levying Powers

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor's eight was thrown today behind drives to repeal the 1947 act broadening municipal taxing powers and to raise salaries for 59,000 teachers.

The AFL-affiliated union adopted the resolutions along with more than a score of others during a meeting at Harrisburg to draft a legislative program to be submitted to the General Assembly in 1949.

John Farley, of the Stroudsburg Typographical Union, won PFL endorsement of the resolution calling for repeal of what he called the "tax anything law" which was passed at the insistence of Gov. James H. Duff.

Teachers, already campaigning for higher wages, won PFL support of salary ranges of $2,400 to $4,800 for those holding Bachelor's degrees and $2,600 to $5,200 for those who have earned Master's degrees. An immediate boost of $400 was recommended.

The State Liquor Control board's policy of accepting cash offers compromising license violations was criticized and legislation was urged to eliminate the practice.

Enlistments Will End Soon In Crack European Outfits

Men Interested In Enrolling In Veteran Outfits Must Apply Soon

Enlistments for the U. S. Army's First Infantry division and the U. S. Constabulary, with assignment in the European command, will be terminated on December 31, 1948. It was announced today by Captain Charles E. Weddle, commanding officer of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting main station. The captain stated that men who are interested in enlisting in either of these veteran "outfits" should not defer their enlistments because of the Christmas holidays. Current Army policy permits the enlistee to obtain a 10-day delay en route from the recruiting station, and return home for the holidays. If enlistment is accomplished on December 22, 23 or 24, it would be possible to spend both Christmas and New Year's Day at home. Actually this is a vacation with pay as Army pay starts on the date of enlistment.

Men who are interested in joining either the First Infantry division or the U. S. Constabulary Forces are urged to contact the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station, Room 400, New Castle, Pa.

Drought On Record Making Is Ended

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Musicians and recording companies, in a holiday mood, celebrated the ending of the year-long record-making drought today with new transcriptions.

Major companies began recording new hit songs, and some hoped to rush the discs to music stores in time for the Christmas trade.

The ban lasted 11½ months and

Plan For Study Of Court Ruling On 'Base Point'

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Effects of the U. S. supreme court decision upsetting industry's "base point" pricing system will be scrutinized by the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce.

A special committee launched the study yesterday to "determine the chamber's policy on the subject."

In its decision, the high court ruled that buyers should be charged a mill price plus transportation costs. Under the basing point system, buyers were charged a flat rate from a specific point, usually regardless of distance.

Long In Use

The system was long used in cement, steel and other industries. Appointed chairman of the study committee was William A. Hemphill of Philadelphia. Other members are: J. T. Whiting of Conshohocken, Donald D. Couch of Pittsburgh, C. J. Backstrand of Lancaster, J. C. Knowles of Bethlehem, R. L. Warren of Brockway, William C. URGENT REVISION OF ELECTORAL COLLEGE PLAN

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Elimination or revision of the electoral college system of choosing the nation's presidents was urged today at Harrisburg by the executive board of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women.

The board suggested the electoral system either be revised by division of the college on a basis of proportionate popular votes of the 48 states or be abandoned completely in favor of popular balloting. Support of a constitutional amendment to carry out the change was recommended by the board. The 81st congress, to be dominated by Democrats, also was called upon by the executive group to support the equal rights program. The federation's 1949 convention will be held at Washington, Pa., May 10-11, the board reported.

Legislator Plans Daylight Savings Fight In Assembly

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Legislation to put "teeth" in a law outlawing daylight saving time in Pennsylvania will be introduced to the 1949 session of the General Assembly.

Rep. Francis Worley, (R) Adams, announced that he will sponsor an act "making it unlawful to indicate any other than standard time on any public building or thoroughfare, or to furnish any other than standard time in the course of business."

If approved by lawmakers, violators would be subject to a fine not exceeding $100 and costs or 10 days in jail.

The measure will have the support of the Pennsylvania State Grange and other agricultural organizations, according to Worley.

Daylight saving time is prohibited under a statute enacted in 1923, but the law carries no penalty for violators.

Investigation Of Phone Rate Boost Gets Under Way

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The Public Utility Commission's investigation of the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone's proposed $24,642,500 annual rate boost was slated to get underway today at the state capitol.

The company, which said the proposed tariff would result in an average 16 per cent increase, had scheduled the increase to become effective January 21 but the commission suspended the proposal for six months on November 23.

Bills of approximately 1,755,000 customers would be affected by increased tariffs, according to the PUC.

Under PUC law, the agency is empowered to suspend the proposal for another three months should the initial period give the commission insufficient time to study the schedule.

Earlier, the council voted to postpone until Friday a decision on Israel's bid for membership in the world body.

First Degree Is Verdict Sought

READING, Pa., Dec. 15.—(INS)—The state sought a first degree murder verdict today in the trial of Harry Maurer, 28, for the shotgun slaying of his wife, Shirley, 18, last Aug. 27.

Assistant District Attorney Edward Link, who asked for the first degree murder verdict, declared that the pretty victim was trying to patch up her marital difficulties.

"At the very moment Maurer stood at the door of the apartment with a loaded shotgun in his hand, his wife was on the telephone attempting to reach him and give him another chance at married life," he told the court.

The state contends that Maurer, a Washington machine repairman, threatened to kill his wife, her mother and her sister, and then fired fatal blast into his wife's back.

Marshall Plan Nations Given Warning By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—The 16 Marshall Plan nations were sternly warned today that the United States will not tolerate the re-selling of recovery materials in this country at "gray market" prices.

Acting Economic Cooperation Administrator Howard Bruce said the ECP nations that Washington will cut-back recovery allocations to countries found practicing the profit-making scheme.

Bruce said, however, that ECA immediately does not plan to police the situation any more than it has in the past. He told reporters:

"The job is squarely up to the individual nations. If they don't comply we'll take drastic action and that means a cut-back in allocations."

Disclosure Made
Bruce's statement followed disclosure that Holland, Britain and Belgium were buying aluminum and lead in the western hemisphere and re-selling almost one-fourth of it to the United States at "high prices."

The original purchases were financed with Marshall Plan dollars. In some cases, American businessmen were reported to have paid up to 30 cents a pound for aluminum which normally sells for 16 cents.

ECA said that as a result of investigations it has ordered cut-backs in the purchase of lead and aluminum by all recovery nations by $5,400 tons.

ECA said that the three nations had been authorized to buy 12,027 tons of lead and 87,016 tons of aluminum. This was valued at $28,857,000.

But the recovery agency said $1,700 tons of 15,555 tons of aluminum and 5,547 tons of lead had been re-sold to American businessmen.

The lead originally had been purchased in Newfoundland, Mexico, Canada and Peru while the aluminum came from Canada.

Many Servicemen Will Spend Holidays At Homes This Year

Armed Services Move To Give Holidays To As Many Servicemen As Possible

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The armed services moved today to give Christmas holidays to as many servicemen in the United States as possible.

The army set the pattern in a circular telling commanding officers that training activities might be suspended between Dec. 22 and Jan. 4. The air force also made suspension of training activities optional between Dec. 22 and Jan. 3, and made leaves discretionary with local commanders.

In the Eighth Air Force, with headquarters at Ft. Worth, 25 percent of the personnel on duty may go on holiday leave. At most other army and air force posts, a larger percentage will be allowed liberty at least sometime during the holidays.

No Directives Yet

No specific directives have yet been issued by the navy or marine corps, but navy officials said that probably the peacetime custom of keeping on duty only those men necessary for essential maintenance activities would be followed.

The same policy probably will be followed in most army camps, due to the optional suspension of training.

The marine corps plans to follow its usual policy of giving short leaves to stateside personnel, with one half getting time off at Christmas and the other half at New Years. The marines also will serve two Christmas dinners, one on Christmas and one on New Years, so that no man will miss his extra service food.

In addition, the army announced that no draftees would be inducted between Dec. 15 and Dec. 27.

The circular covering holidays said however, voluntary enlistments and recruiting activities will not be suspended.

The holidays also tended to disrupt service schedules in cases in which provision had not been made for them. The army circular directed that special service schools extend their courses as much as two weeks in order to give time off to students.

MORAVIA

The Helping Hand Bible class held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mike Bozinski, Friday evening, December 10. Following the business meeting games and chat were the main diversions of the evening. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served by the social committee.

North Beaver Grange will hold the regular monthly meeting, Thursday evening, December 16, with Clifford Ferree in charge. There will be an exchange of gifts at this meeting.

Lady Liar Wins Championship With Quail Hunt Story

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 15.—(INS)—Members of the Columbus Liars club called a lady a liar today, and she loved it.

The liar—or the lady—is Mrs. Grayce Evans, secretary of the Moose lodge, who displaced Dwight E. Hilliard as the year's champion liar.

Here's the story which made her 1948 champ:

"I went quail hunting with my uncle in Kentucky, behind the second ridge. The bird dog began to run in a 30-foot circle, always working toward the center. 'All of a sudden the dog froze and my uncle yelled 'Flush'. Up went one quail which I shot. 'Each time my uncle yelled 'Flush' one quail went up, so I asked him why they didn't all fly up at once. 'You see, when the dog circled, he ran all the quail in the center and down that gopher hole. He kept his foot over the hole and let only one quail fly each time I yelled!'"

Wildlife Exhibit At State Farm Show

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—(INS)—Farmers visiting the state farm show January 10-14 will see an exhibit pointing up the values of wildlife to farms.

State game officials and the Federation of Sportsmen's clubs planned a joint wildlife conservation exhibit which would emphasize use of those trees and plants which will conserve soil, prevent water run-off, provide natural fencibles and windbreaks, and furnish cover and food for wildlife and songbirds.

Ross L. Leffler, president of the game commission, and R. S. Cooper, federation head, in a joint statement, said they "recognize the farmer as wildlife's greatest benefactor," and they "propose to acquaint him with its advantages."

Business College Elects Officers

Results of the recent election of officers by students of the New Castle Business college were announced today by G. Crawford Lyon, director.

Kenneth Wimer, Slippery Rock, has been elected as the new president of the student body. Wimer was previously vice president of the group. All of the officers have been elected for the two quarters of the school year that ends June 1, 1949.

Homer Palm, Ellwood City, is the new vice president; Edmund Sniezek, New Castle, treasurer, and Mary Jane Lockhart, Coraopolis, secretary.

Clyde Bruce, New Castle, was re-elected men's representative of the student council and Glenna Mae McCracken is the women's representative.

Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, faculty advisor to the student council, had charge of the election and installation of the new officers.

The group plans a small Christmas party at the school and a dinner-dance soon after the new year.

STEAL MERECHANDISE
State police today received a report that merchandise valued at $138, was stolen from the P. & L. E. R. R. commissary Sunday.

African elephants, not now tamed, were tamed and used in warfare by the Carthaginians and Romans.
